There has been controversy about the necessity for early thymectomy in the treatment of myasthenia gravis (MG). There are several theories about the need for early thymectomy, among them immunological, neurologic, and cardiovascular. The goal of this study was to evaluate the value of early thymectomy in MG. We retrospectively evaluated 46 MG patients treated with early thymectomy (group 1, n = 16) and late thymectomy (group 2, n = 30), both according to the guidelines. Serum autoantibodies, clinical course, need for glucocorticoids, and recurrence rate were compared between the 2 groups. There was no significant difference between the 2 groups with respect to serum autoantibodies, clinical course, and need for glucocorticoids. Fifteen percent of patients in group 1 and 10 % in group 2 had surgical complications. Serum autoantibody titers were not significantly different between the 2 groups. There were no differences in the rate of recurrence between the 2 groups. In conclusion, the results of this study showed that early thymectomy had no effect on the clinical course of MG. Patients without perithyroidal collection, nonthymomatous MG, and nonsevere MG could be treated by late thymectomy with comparable results. We believe that there is no need for early thymectomy in the treatment of MG. El Gobierno ha hecho un esfuerzo para dotar de una serie de medidas contra el terrorismo y evitar que se produzca en nuestro país ataques terroristas, según explica el presidente Andrés Manuel López Obrador. La nueva normativa fue respaldada por los partidos políticos de las bancadas legislativas que integran la instancia, al igual que por la mayoría de los miembros del Senado que apoyan el texto, dado que la iniciativa no fue legislada por la Cámara de Diputados, sino por las dos cámaras del Congreso de la Unión. En el recinto, los legisladores señalaron que los delitos terroristas (como son el de odio, el delito de secuestro y la ejecución extrajudicial) son graves, en virtud de que atentan contra el orden constitucional y la paz social, y que las penas de prisión adecuadas deberían ser castigadas, especialmente en los que implican violencia directa o indirecta y a menudo contra la vida. Ante la ausencia de penas de prisión para fiscales o jueces que cometan fraude, se acordó incluir dentro de esta especial legislación e24f408de9
