* Official Nikon Training site (Figure 2-10) Nikon's official site gives a comprehensive training area for users of Nikon cameras and photo software. Figure 2-10. You'll find lots of free training materials at the Nikon site. ## The Filter Gallery Photoshop also has an incredibly powerful filter system. On a Mac, choose Window Filters and then Filters to open the Filter Gallery. The Filter Gallery's primary function is to change the appearance of the current image—by blending, muting, or removing color or changing its hue—in a way that no single tool can achieve. You can also use the Filter Gallery to create special effects, and to retouch your original image.

The Magnetic Lasso tool allows you to easily create a free-hand selection. The tool can also be used for more advanced selections like those used for spot Healing and Fill. The Pen tool is a powerful tool used for drawing and hand drawing effects. In addition to basic drawing and editing features, you can use this tool to create lines, shapes, text, and even areas of no fill. As the adage goes, "Give a man a fish and he will eat for a day, teach a man to fish and he will eat for a lifetime." Let's say your buddy who studies on the site (and you in another) get some confusion on what is a PDF file and what is a DOCX file? It all started when your buddy wants to send a original copy of his presentation for you to use as a guide. He/She called you up and said "I need to forward a presentation to you. I need to forward both types of file so you can edit them and make it your own. I've already sent you a PDF, but I also need to send you a DOCX file as well." It seems a bit confusing to you, as you're not really familiar with the formats. But, just guess what is the best thing you can do if you want to avoid these situations? If you can send a simple file that is easy for you to edit as well as your buddy can easily open and edit as well, that's a good file to use. Yes, you can use a PowerPoint or Powerpoint converter (or MS Office to DOCX converter) but that'd be a waste of your time (plus $$$$$$, time, and work).
