To start using AutoCAD, you must register with the Autodesk customer support portal for your product key. A user account is created automatically, so there is no need for further registration. The accounts are set up with the proper licensing terms and expire after a set amount of time. You will be taken to your “My Account” page to review your registration information. Your AutoCAD subscription includes everything that is in the base license, but the subscriptions also include standard video training and access to the online help system. Configure your install location If you have multiple users on your system, you should set up your install location to your shared desktop. This ensures that you can give access to every user on your system. The fastest way to do this is to use the Windows Start Menu. Select “C:\Program Files\Autodesk\AutoCAD 2019”. This will take you to your install location. If you want to do this from within AutoCAD, select Help > Open File Location > File Location and navigate to C:\Program Files\Autodesk\AutoCAD 2019. You can set a different location for each user account that is created.

---

Create an AutoCAD user Your AutoCAD account is created automatically when you install the program. After installing, sign in to the application. The first time you open the application, you will be taken to the configuration screen.
You can sign into your account by entering your user ID and password. If you want to create a new user, you can do this using the Options > Preferences menu. You must specify which user groups will be members of the group. The default group is “AutoCAD User”, which will include all AutoCAD users. Select a user group from the drop-down list and click Add. You can set multiple user groups, as well as create a group with no users. You can also sign into your account from within AutoCAD. On the Preferences screen, you can create a new user and add it to an existing group. If you want to add a user to a new group, you must also set the group that the user is added to. After the user is created, you will be taken back to the Preferences screen. You can customize your user name and password on the Preferences screen. Once your user is coming off a 40-13 loss to West Virginia on Saturday. In that game, Texas freshman quarterback Jerrod Heard was replaced by sophomore Tyrone Swoopes at halftime and the former All-American saw his first action as a Texas quarterback. “He didn’t play like a freshman,” Strong said. “His technique was excellent and he was poised. “We’re going to make a decision on how we’re going to use him, but he played like a veteran. He was very efficient. He had a little less than one touchdown, but only threw one incomplection.” Asked if Heard was going to play against Texas A&M, Strong replied, “Oh, no.” Strong said the decision to start Swoopes against West Virginia was made prior to the game. He said it was made with the players and had nothing to do with Heard’s excellent play against the Mountaineers. “I don’t know what it is, but when you have freshmen
