Damodarastakam In Malayalam 31.pdfJohann Tobias Schutz Johann Tobias Schutz (19 September 1738 – 3 August 1798) was a German Lutheran theologian and historian. Life Schutz was born in Torgau. He studied at Halle, Magdeburg, Erfurt and Berlin, receiving his doctorate at the University of Halle in 1764 with a dissertation titled "De ortu et fine naturae" ("On the origin and purpose of nature"). Schutz also published several theological works, among them a Critical Disquisition on the Prophet Moses in 1767, and a Commentary on the Apostles' Creed in 1774. His chief work is a History of the Christian Church, completed by his younger brother Johann Peter Schutz. It was published in three volumes in 1785-1786 and 1790, and was influential in the development of ecclesiastical history and of the study of the church's origins in Germany. It was translated into English in 1791, and published in abbreviated form under the title Ecclesiastical History of Germany in 1809. In the same period, Schutz also published historical accounts of the principal wars between the German states, as well as of the Thirty Years' War, the victorious struggle of 1648-1649. In 1778, he published in two volumes a collection of Latin poems in honor of the Duke of Abrantes, the King of Portugal. Schutz was a professor of the University of Halle from 1764 to 1798. He also directed the congregation of the Eilenburg Protestant Church. He died in Magdeburg.
