Become the ruler of your own Star Empire, invent new technologies, wage war, expand your territory and become an immortal dictator, but remember: you are in a galaxy far, far away... Galaxy of Civilization™ is the first space RTS game from Stardock, the same company that brought you Galactic Civilizations™, Sins of a Solar Empire™, Star Control™: Origins™ and Merchant Marine. Galaxy of Civilization is a massively multiplayer online game set in the universe of the original Galactic Civilizations®. Follow the fate of the civilizations and strive to reach the stars. Discover new technologies, explore the galaxy and engage in epic space battles. The future of the entire galaxy is in your hands! No computer necessary. Galaxy of Civilization is a turn-based browser game in which players can take on the role of a civilization, a faction or an empire, leading a world on the verge of self-destruction. Single-player campaigns, large multi-player battles, and player-versus-player (PvP) fighting exist side by side. Modem- and router-compatible. There is nothing else like it in the galaxy. The core concepts of Galaxy of Civilization are the same as in the original Galactics™: create an empire, expand your territories, claim planets, mine resources, research technologies, research and upgrade units, engage in battles, trade resources and build ships for space travel. Galaxy of Civilization has a different universe, with planets and stars very different from the original Galactics universe. There are four major factions in Galaxy of Civilization, a unique faction system and eight units to create and customize. Galaxy of Civilization allows players to play in both a fantasy universe (for the original Galactics universe) and an alien universe. There are several game modes to play in, including campaigns and multiplayer skirmishes against other players or AI opponents. Playing in a campaign leads the player through the legendary events of the original Galactics universe. Playing in Multiplayer takes place in the same universe as the Galactics universe but player-versus-player battles are now possible! Galaxy of Civilization features a total of 28 new technologies, of which 16 are available in all game modes. The technologies are designed to make the game more challenging and to reward players who are more thoughtful and able to cooperate to overcome their opponents. Galaxy of Civilization can be played in a variety of ways. As an empire, your goal is to dominate the galaxy. As a faction, you can play for your c9d1549cdd

Upgrade: Shield Defense Bullets Defense: How it works: The meteors are hurtling towards your town, and there's only one person that can stop them: YOU. Your goal in click defense is to load your missile turrets, then line them up just right to fire your deadly lasers as fast as you can to intercept the meteors before they reach your city. There's two turrets, and each has a top and a side location you can aim from. Rotate your mouse to aim and click to fire. You have a limited number of shots from each turret, but can adjust your aim after each shot. If a missile misses, don't worry: You can still shoot at it to try and knock it down. You are boosted at the start of each night. Boosting decreases the damage that meteors do, but also makes the meteors travel slower and harder to dodge. Boosting is given to you by clicking on the booster in the tech tree. CHAPTER SIX Throughout the first two weeks of wait for the release of back to the castle, fans of Gagik Armajani helped the composer to recall his musical notions from 20 years ago by writing the back to the castle commentary. Even though they sounded weird to the composer, but his close friend and fan Karapet Eramian the volunteers helped the composer to come up with a new style of commentary and the rest of the fans made their own complements with a direct donation towards a GoFundMe charity account. Bagsak was the first person to donate to the GoFundMe account and earn their name on the list of contributors ranked from highest amount to lowest. The composer also posted on his Instagram mentioning how grateful he was to the help he got. The composer got into the nature of producing a single of Back to The Castle thanks to the online feedback he got via SoundCloud from Boops to his music. He made friends on SoundCloud by comparing their songs to his, especially by Dylan Fuentes. Dylan submitted his song to the composer and he got his phone call a couple of days later. "I love your song Boops. I think it's creative and something that you have to get it right. Like a long way to go but I'm confident you're going to get there. I could tell by the sound of it. Keep going you're on the right path. I love how you have a western feel but still use eastern instruments. It's interesting and original. It's great." Boops wrote to the composer adding: "Let me know what song you're talking about. I've been fairly successful at producing, I have my own label now. It's fun, it's challenging and I hope to keep putting out music for a living. I don't want to be a tenured performer though... I'd love to do that." The composer was inspired to bring some of Boops to the stage of producing. Boops was just as hardworking as the composer, even more so on some occasions. He responded to the composer: "Do you have a preference on who you would like me to work with? Who wants me to produce your next song?" Boops asked. "I think the artist would be the most important," replied the composer: "I don't really have any preference and I'd like to have
