Happy Neighbors is a puzzle game in which you try to make all of the happy neighbors happy. There is a beautiful 3D cartoonish graphics and also fascinating sound effects. The graphics and audio are bright, fun and happy. In order to please your neighbors, you have to build fences around your house so that they get to enjoy a beautiful relaxed garden all around. The game starts at the park and you have to make your way to your house. When you have passed your house, the neighbors will welcome you with a cool game begin. They will welcome you by asking you about your name. They will talk to you and ask about your personal questions. During this game, you have to think about a good and sensible strategy to make all of your neighbors happy. If you choose a wrong decision, you will have a hard time and your neighbors will get grumpy. However, if you choose a good decision, you will get a lot of points, and that will lead you to success. To get a good result, you have to think sensibly and quickly. The game has 5 stages. Your neighborhood will get longer and longer, and more things will be added. The different things in each stage are carefully designed. A Day without a Puzzle is... A boring day.]]>Thu, 23 Aug 2011 18:20:09 +0000Happy Neighbors - 3D puzzle game

Okay, I don't know if it's finally time to start the bashing for Triumph Universal's mistakes (the worst in the franchise :p). I used to write some commentary on this website prior to getting accepted to TUG, but I guess it was better to keep all my canings safely archived in my blog, where it would not be mixed up with the good news about making it in my dream team. Initially, the new goodies arrived quickly; new artwork and new fanmade cards actually arrived before the expansion did. Thanks a lot for the re-imagined platforms, guys! I wasn't expecting you to create those graphics, especially the infamous/cursed map. It was a great gift! In reaction to this new expansion

A security engineer's monster of the week is a paradoxical creature named Zig. When physically present, Zig appears very cute, but when his target turns his back, Zig turns his targeted into a big, juicy sausage. Zig takes its skills pretty seriously and just destroying an object is not enough. If you destroy something it's essential to destroy it all, if you hit just a little spot, the game will be over and Zig will get disappointed with you. Also, being as cute as he can be, he enjoys picking on his targets with a newly acquired gardening tool. His target doesn't see the soft spikes coming, but feels a lot of pain. But Zig does not get to pick just any kind of gardening tool! Zig is a gardener and his gardening tool of choice is a crayon! The only thing is that even while the crayon is in Zig's hands it can destroy whatever it's drawn on. So if you are a jerk and draw a lot of things on the target while he's busy and also tried to hit this target with a knife, a frying pan or an electric saw, the scene will be screwed up. Also, Zig has a list of people that he hates and going after them will make Zig angry. The lists are a little bit confusing and you need to be careful about what you pick. The most important thing is that Zig is very clever and likes to stay calm while performing a puzzle. Even if you don't think of him, he's getting clues from your actions. He will then go for the best sequence of actions to make the puzzle more difficult and doing that will give Zig a sense of accomplishment. So be careful, because with your actions he might learn to hate you and put you on his "hate list". Every now and then Zig hits the panic button and he will take a vacation (brain free) for about 30 minutes. During that time he is unable to do anything except for pooping. So don't let him get away! To make things even more challenging you need to keep in mind that Zig is not that smart, if you're a good boy you will be rewarded with gifts that will make your life a little bit easier. ► Play Minimal Physics? ► Minimal Physics is a game in which you have to destroy everything. All you need to do is to hit a trigger in the appropriate time. You can take some time by destroying everything around. However, if you touch the wrong things
