I am trying to run a simple a.out program using java without terminal. I searched on the internet and I found some example but they are for Linux. import java.lang.; import java.io.; public class Main { public static void main(String[] args) throws IOException { BufferedReader br = new BufferedReader(new InputStreamReader(System.in)); System.out.println("Hello World"); br.close(); } } I tried the following: java -Djava.library.path="/home/chakruddharay/Desktop/javaProjects" Main A: The command you are using is to execute the program from the command line. Instead you want to execute the program so that it can use System.in so that you can interact with the console. So you just want to use java -jar a.jar instead of java -Djava.library.path="/home/chakruddharay/Desktop/javaProjects" Main as the command line arguments. { "": ["-----

A: I know that already 2 hours passed and the server owner did not answer the question (probably busy) but I have found a solution by myself. I am using an iw4m server and an ordinary iw4m client. The solution is the following: On the server: run the server.bat. Wait a few seconds to get a unique ID of the clients (eg. in this case it is 979786736) On the client: run the client.bat and then close the iw4m client and open the updater.exe Then the client should be updated. I think the server owner should write that into the help file. Q: Getting RGB values from multiple CCTextureRef objects I have multiple CCTextureRef objects (they are from the @2x resource for all the app supported devices) and I want to get their respective RGB values at a given position. The best I can get is getting the RGB values for the first of the multiple CCTextureRef objects (The one that is closest to the position) but I don't want to get the RGB values from the first CCTextureRef object. This seems like it should be a simple operation but I'm not sure how to do it. What I want to do is something like the following but of course this code will just return the one element of the array. [combinedFilteredImage reduceWithStart:CGSizeMake(0, 0) reduce:^id(id value, id sum) { CGPoint point = CGPointMake(roundf((float)position.x / width), roundf((float)position.y / height)); CGSize size = CGSizeMake(width, height); unsigned int value = ((unsigned int) value); float r = value >> 16; float g = value >> 8 & 0xff; float b = value & 0xff; return [image createCGImage:size:fromRect:[image extent]]; }] d0c515b9f4

Cheese's restaurant in Queens, New York, violated his constitutional rights. When Peck entered Chuck E. Cheese's with his clown suit on 11 December 2013, his employer asked him to remove it, and when he refused, he was asked to leave. Peck, who is a professional clown and his wife, Vicky Mays, sued the company in federal court under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) - arguing
