Features: Bonus Book 1; This is the first book in the 4 book edition of The Assassin's Creed Project An innovative and MongoDB custom end-point caching - possible to set expiration period to zero I am working on a MongoDB solution which needs to put some sort of a caching mechanism. I want to use MongoDB custom end-points and set the expire time to 0. But whenever i try to update the parameters in the end-point with the new expire time i get a non-deterministic error and the device stops working. I am able to get it working on the deployment simulator but not on the physical device. I believe this error could be one of the known mongoDB driver issues. The HTTP status code 400 was not upgraded due to errors in the request. Any pointers on what could be the error would be of great help. Edit: I have added the try catch and 6d1f23a050
