The following is a summary of the contents of the Mechatronics book:.The present invention relates generally to a semiconductor device and a method of manufacturing the same. More specifically, the present invention is concerned with a semiconductor device having a buried gate electrode and a method of manufacturing the same. When a buried gate electrode is formed in a semiconductor integrated circuit, typically, an impurity-doped polysilicon is employed for the bottom electrode. Since the ionic impurity level of the polysilicon top electrode is low, impurity atoms of a dopant diffused into the polysilicon remain in the polysilicon electrode and are diffused towards the semiconductor substrate, resulting in a lower breakdown voltage of the gate insulating film. To prevent this problem, it is proposed to connect a conductor, for example, a metal film to the electrode to reduce the resistance of the electrode and to use a semiconductor substrate containing a top electrode having a higher impurity level. Japanese Patent Laid-open No. Hei 6-195984, for example, discloses a method of forming a buried gate electrode in a semic
